By train

Guildford is on the London Waterloo - Portsmouth Harbour line which has a good service - catch a fast train from Waterloo to the main Guildford station. Fast trains leave Waterloo on the hour and 15 and 30 minutes past the hour, but do check the timetable.

Once at Guildford Station take either a taxi (approximately £7-£8) - these are usually parked outside the front entrance - or use the bus service. Some buses travel to the Park itself, others to the Hospital from where it is a short walk to the Park.

From Heathrow Airport

There is a rail/air/bus link service which operates two buses every hour between Heathrow Airport and Woking Station, which is only a ten minute train ride away from Guildford Station. The buses run on the hour and the duration of this journey is around 45 mins but do check the timetable.

From Gatwick Airport

There are two trains each hour from Gatwick Airport to Guildford. You may need to change at Clapham Junction although there is a direct service which take only 40 minutes.

By foot from Guildford Station

The route for walking to the Park is shown as a dotted line on the local map. Journey time is approximately 40 minutes.
